

Jackie Leung, MD MPH

Jacqueline Leung, MD, MPH is the Vice Chair of Academic Affairs in the Department of Anesthesia & Perioperative Care at UCSF where she is a board-certified anesthesiologist, Professor of Anesthesia, and the Director of the Perioperative Medicine Research Group. The group conducts outcomes research in older patients. Dr. Leung's recent work focuses on identifying the pathophysiology of postoperative delirium and cognitive decline, and also the mechanism between sleep disruption and ICU delirium. Dr. Leung has published several peer-reviewed articles on postoperative delirium and cognitive decline as well as many other topics.