

Hollis "Holly" Ray, MD, DFPM, FHM

Hollis "Holly" Ray, MD, DFPM, FHM, is a Clinical Physician Executive for Novant Health Surgical Institute and Medical Director for Surgery Navigation at Novant Health New Hanover Regional Medical Center in Wilmington, NC. Dr. Ray is a hospitalist and completed a fellowship in perioperative medicine with the Society for Perioperative Assessment and Quality Improvement (SPAQI). She also holds a clinical faculty position with the UNC Chapel Hill School of Medicine. A member of both SPAQI and the Society of Hospital Medicine, Dr. Ray lectures and assists in the planning of both organizations' annual conferences.

She and her husband, Cliff, own a small business, P2P Rescue, that manufactures water rescue equipment and are committed in efforts toward drowning prevention. In her free time Dr. Ray enjoys spending time with her husband and two children, boating on the North Carolina coast, attending concerts, and traveling.