

Kate Miller, MD

Dr. Kate Miller, M.D. is an anesthesiologist with Providence Anesthesiology Associates in Charlotte, North Carolina. She completed her Residency in Anesthesiology as well as a Fellowship in Pediatric Anesthesiology at Yale University School of Medicine. During that time she served as Chief Resident, and collaborated with faculty on the Resident Education Committee, Yale Department of Anesthesiology Grand Rounds and Yale Anesthesiology Journal Club. She also worked with a team of anesthesiologists on the Morbidity and Mortality committee to analyze patient complications and examine opportunities for improvement in perioperative care. She is board certified in anesthesiology and pediatric anesthesiology.

She has practiced anesthesiology in North Carolina since 2009, and also taught as an Adjunct Professor at The University of North Carolina Charlotte in the Department of Kinesiology Bachelor of Science in Respiratory Therapy Program. Dr. Miller currently serves as Chair of the Clinical Practice Committee and member of the Executive Board for Providence Anesthesiology Associates. She is also Section Chief and Medical Director of the Novant Health Midtown Surgery Center and serves on the Novant Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee. Dr. Miller has special interests in pediatric anesthesiology and perioperative patient safety.