

Christopher Parsons, MD

Dr. Christopher Parsons is an anesthesiologist with Providence Anesthesiology Associates in Charlotte, North Carolina. He completed his Residency in Anesthesiology in Louisville, Kentucky followed by a fellowship in Adult Cardiothoracic Anesthesiology at The Mount Sinai Hospital in New York, New York.

He is board certified with the American Board of Anesthesiology and the National Board of Echocardiography in Advanced Perioperative Transesophageal Echocardiography. His interests pertain to the delivery of quality perioperative care, especially in the setting of cardiac surgery. He serves on the Clinical Practice Committee and the Finance Committee with Providence Anesthesiology Associates.